Join our exciting seminar series, featuring topics, activities and partnerships that span the Earth sciences!

Goddard Applied Sciences connects NASA researchers with end users, supports interagency activities, and develops external partnerships to facilitate practical and innovative uses of Earth observations for societal benefit.